A Note from Trish – Expressions of Interested for “Horse Trials”

I had an idea the other night.... Not original but it could be entertaining and constructive at the same time...

Its an event like Dog Trials only on horseback. We would have obsticals like witches hats or drums to manouver several head of cattle around; a gap in some panels to go through and maybe a pen into which one would try to place the small group of cattle.

Points would be awarded by a judge. Ashleen Box knows a dog trial bloke who is also keen to run a dog trial in conjunction with a horse trial, to give tinstruction and at the end judge the horse event for very little cost.

We could run this in the 'off season; and advertise to get some pubic spectators along for the entertainment for which they would be charged an entry fee.

If anyone is interested, please let me know so I can get the wheels in motion.

Cheers Trish
